Today, I was reading a book about ' What was it Like? ' When I was reading the book, I fell asleep. When I opened my eyes, I was in a strange place. At that moment, I was no idea where I was. I thought I should be on the bed but I was not. Suddenly, someone said 'Hello' to me and I turned around. He was Chip who was the character of the book I just read. I was shocked that why Chip was here. I felt a little scared too. Chip told me that we were at his school, so he took me to his classroom and introduced me to his classmates. They thought I was a new classmate. They were nice to me and took me walk around the school. I was upset because I still thought of going back to my real world. I could not stop thinking about it.

Since I did not smile, Chip took me to a playground. He and his classmates were playing the slide. Then, I tried to forget my problem. I also played the slide with them. When I slipped down the slide, there was a dark hole at the edge of the slide. I could not stop myself and I fell into the hole and the hole disappeared. I screamed and I was dizzy after that.

When I opened my eyes again, my mother was standing in front of me. She told me that I fell asleep when I was reading a book. I knew that the experience in Chip's world was just a dream.
